A Tip To The 'Tiser.

A Chinese editor decided to break away from the ancient traditions of the country, and introduce some foreign innovations. But when his plans became known, he was harassed and threatened and delayed by the authorities beyond the limit of patience, until finally he gave up the effort with this announcement of intention: "In future nothing which may be described as new will appear in these columns, and thereby prevent people's understandings from being enlightened. None but bigoted members of the concealed literati will ever be called to assist upon the editorial staff. We shall confine ourselves to the affairs of the last dynasty, carefully avoiding all reference to the family that now rules China. We shall give our special attention to fortune telling, witchcraft, and kindred subjects of truth, of which no one has any doubt. A place of supreme importance will be given to geomancy and its revered teachings, and we shall show that a man's good luck or misfortune is controlled by the stars. We shall respectfully beg his majesty to observe the old customs, and that the mandarins follow their excellent and time-honored methods of transacting business. We shall resist with all our strength every attempt to introduce reforms, and lest we should be tempted to record any current events, we resolve from this time forward to dispense with the services of all reporters as a useless waste of money. We hope in this way to earn the good will and support of all our readers, firmly believing that if we do according to this honest and admirable advice the benefit.

The Babies in the Woods.

Eleven young boys and girls spent Saturday night at Lanihuli at the top of the Pali without food or water. They had gone out for a mountain climb, and darkness overtook them before they could make their descent. Their parents and friends became very anxious as the party did not return and search was made for them in all directions. They were found by Messrs. Cooke and Thompson yesterday morning on their descent to the Pali and were taken to the Cooke mountain residence. All were lightly dressed, and had to huddle together during the long night to keep warm. The party which looked very weary and bedraggled was photographed by Mr. Cooke and will have an amusing souvenir of their misadventure. The party was composed of Miss Lena Adams, Lyle A. Dickey Jr., Percy Gustav, Elsie Schaefer, Linda Schaefer, and Gustav Schaefer, Reba Thompson and Bobbie Thompson, Annie Tucker and Kirkby Tucker and Miss Cameron.

They Never Obeyed.

The women in Norway have gained another victory. For many years they have been waging war against the use of the word "obey" in the marriage service of the Norwegian church. Their labors have at length been crowned with partial success. The parliament in Christiania has ruled that the use of the obnoxious word shall henceforth not be obligatory upon the bride, but only optional. The bride is to be free either to say that she will be "faithful or obedient," or simply to say that she will be "faithful," as she prefers.

Get There On Time.

Intending cabin and steerage passengers from the port of Honolulu are notified by the agents of the different steamship companies that they will not book passengers on the steamers that they intend to leave on unless they report at the booking office at least nine days previous to the date of sailing.
